

We would like to invite you to share your views on how your health and social care data is shared across services within Hertfordshire and beyond. We want to know what you know about how your information is currently shared, and how you feel about how your information may be shared in the future:

- Would you be happy with your GP sharing your medical information with hospitals, charities or the police?
- Are you happy for your information to be used to plan services for the future?
- Should you always be asked for your consent before any of your information is shared, no matter who it is with?

If you have an opinion on any of the above, this is the time to tell the people who make the decisions... This is the time to make your voice heard.
